Our curriculum is designed to develop children's character, intellect and curiosity. We have high aspirations for our children and aim to offer them a broad, challenging, engaging and diverse curriculum.

By the time children leave our school they will:

Mathematics

I can:

- recall multiplication and division facts for multiplication tables up to 12×12
- recognise the place value of each digit in a four-digit number
- add and subtract numbers using the formal written methods

Reading

I can:

- identifying main ideas drawn from more than one paragraph and summarising these
- identifying how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning

Writing

I can:

- sometimes use commas in my writing
- insert both singular and plural possessive apostrophes correctly into sentences
- produce handwriting that is often joined and always legible

Home-learning will include opportunities to practise some of these objectives but if you and your child are not sure what they mean please make an appointment to speak to me before or after school.

Home-learning and how parents can help

Children work very hard at school during the day so we want to keep home-learning simple and easy to manage. Parents can be a great help if they talk to their children about their learning and set up a routine every night. Little and often is best.

Reading

It is vital that children practise their reading at home by being heard by an adult or older sibling. This is just as important for older children who are decoding texts fluently – they may be able to read the words, but they also need opportunities to discuss the meaning of the texts they are reading as often as possible.

Key Stage Two (Years 3-6)

Children take home a book of their choice (banded book) and a reading diary. Teachers and teaching assistants ensure that the level of the book the child takes home is appropriate and carefully monitor the amount children are reading at home.

Children in KS2 should read for half an hour every day. They can record their reading comments in their reading journal and you should sign and add any more comments to show your child has read to you or another adult/older sibling. Reading books should be brought into school each morning along with the reading diary. We encourage children to read a wide range of authors and text types which they find in everyday life, as well as books.

KIRFS (Key Instant Recall Facts)

This year we are going to continue to help children improve their mental maths skills, which are essential to becoming confident mathematicians.

Each half term children will be given a list of Key instant Recall Facts to practise and learn at home as well as in school. It is important that they know these thoroughly and can recall specific facts instantly. Whilst children have a wide range of abilities in mathematics, the key instant recall facts are a set of facts that need to be learnt off by heart. They build on each other year on year. Again, we stress that the children must aim to know the facts inside out, back to front and with instant recall. Children should practise these facts every night for about 10 minutes. Little and often is the key. Each child will be quizzed on the facts during the half term so teachers can monitor their progress.

Spellings

Your child will receive lists of useful words every week. These words are linked to the spelling pattern or family taught during that week in school. Children will need to practise these for 5 to 10 minutes each night. Little and often is most effective. We will informally quiz the children every week as part of their spelling lessons

Weekly events
